name: Castanea

category: chandelier

type: 202301

composition: cast brass, opal glass

production: handcrafted

reference: The lamp consists of a brass cast in the shape of spreading branches. At the ends of each branch is an oval cone. The cone consists of overlapping cups and an opal glass shade. The lamp gives a pleasant warm light and illuminates the space below. It will work well as a lamp over a dining table. Despite its the bimorphic shape, the ends of the lamp's arms form a string of evenly spaced shades.
