name: Zodiak

category: pendant lamp

distribution: Studio Fenice

type: Sf202203

composition: brass, opal glass reference: The human has always observed celestial movements. Tried to give them meaning, read the future, looked for divine guidelines. The lamp is a zodiac sign, shaped as the concept of those. It consists of light points suggesting celestial bodies that are interconnected with dynamic lines. If the heaven truly held prophetic guidelines the designer would place his own among them. The lamp symbolizes a dancing couple. Elongated, interweaved limbs are herded in the center. It tells a story of happiness in its dynamic, fleeting form that can only happen between two people: a story of fundamental happiness.
